Neighbourhood Alert:

Thanks to the internet it's easy to share about what you're doing, how you're feeling, your opinions, likes, dislikes, passions and interests. As well as information and updates about yourself, family and friends, keeping everyone up to date about your life.

But what if what you share doesn't have the effect you intended it to because it's oversharing? Like your home being burgled because you posted your family holiday pics. Or your identity being stolen if a criminal pieces together the personal details in your profile. The attached leaflet provides tips and advice on making sure you don't overshare online:

Fancy a game of Table Tennis? Dalton & Gayles Village Hall now has one you can hire - contact Sue Farr on 07761 800643 to arrange a time to play.
